N.B.—The reason of so few discharges of bills of sale, &c., being registered is mainly owing to the difficulty of proving the certificate of satisfaction as required by the Act (No. 8 of 5th Vic.), viz., the acknowledgment by the mortgagee of his signature to the certificate of satisfaction or proof of execution by said mortgagee by one of two witnesses upon affidavit before the Registrar-General or his deputy. For this reason the greater portion are allowed to lapse.

* The great increase in the number is partly owing to the fact that Hire Agreements, Mortgages of Stock and Liens and Settlements are included.

* Loan raised by Colonisation Commissioners. † Aid from Imperial Government. ‡ Aid to Revenue by issue of Bonds and Treasury Bills.
§ Immigration ceased in these years.

NOTE.—Prior to 1851, all remittances to the Land and Emigration Commissioners were carried to account by the Colonial Treasurer as sums expended on Immigration, and the receipts in England by the Land and Emigration Commissioners were never included in the accounts of the Colony—an adjustment of accounts was, however, made in the year 1853.

NOTE.—Aborigines are not included, except in the case of Victoria, New South Wales, and Tasmania. The estimated or enumerated numbers on the 5th April, 1891, in the following colonies were as subjoined:—Victoria, 565; New South Wales, 8,280; South Australia, 23,789; Western Australia, 6,245; Tasmania (half-castes), 139; New Zealand (Maoris), 41,993, viz., 22,861 males and 19,132 females. NOTE.—The Immigration and Emigration in this table is by sea only.

[1] The figures in these columns generally understate the truth. Many persons leave all the colonies by sea without their departure being noted.

[2] In consequence of the Emigration returns being defective, as stated in the last footnote, the figures in these columns are too high, except where the minus sign (−) appears indicating that the emigrants exceeded the immigrants by the number against which it is placed, when the figures are too low.

[3] Net figures. According to Imperial returns, the number of persons who left the United Kingdom for the Australasian colonies in 1891 was 19,957, and the number who returned to the United Kingdom from these colonies was 9,853. The excess in favour of departures was thus 10,104, or little more than one-fourth of the excess of immigrants over emigrants shown in the table.

NOTE.—The figures of revenue and expenditure for Victoria are for the twelve months ended 30th June, but those for the other colonies are for the calendar year. Refunds of revenue, drawbacks, and such similar entries, are rigidly excluded from the accounts of revenue and expenditure of Victoria and New Zealand, but are included in those of New South Wales and Queensland, also in those of some of the other colonies. See also Note 5.

* Including the Northern Territory.

[1] The amounts in this column are made up of Excise duties, including licences imposed for revenue purposes; duties on bank notes; duty stamps; legacy, succession, and probate duties; property and income taxes; and any other impost, payable to the General Government, levied distinctly as a tax; but excluding fees and charges for special services rendered.

[2] The figures for Victoria during the year ended 30th June, 1892, were as follow:—Revenue from Customs, £2,388,961; other taxes, £760,348 (partly estimated); from Crown lands, £519,387; from Railways, £3,101,491; from Post and Telegraphs, £502,748 (estimated); from other sources, £456,637—Total revenue, £7,729,572. The estimated mean population of the same period was 1,157,678; therefore the revenue per head was £6 13s. 6d.; and the taxation per head was about £2 14s. 5d.

[3] The proportion of the revenue of Victoria and New Zealand derived from "Other Taxes" and "Post and Telegraphs" has been roughly estimated, there being no means of obtaining the exact figures.

[4] Inclusive of tramways, £300,579; but exclusive of revenue collected for Victoria and Queensland, Steam-ship Companies, &c., £31,320.

[5] Including revenue returned to the extent of at least £262,060—viz., £37,023, for drawbacks and refunds of duty; £31,320, railway revenue collected for the Victorian and Queensland Governments, Steamship Companies, &c.; and about £193,717, being other revenue returned, &c.

[6] Inclusive of revenue from gold-fields, £18,215.

[7] In calculating the amounts for Victoria the mean population during the year 1890–91 (1,133,266) has been taken. For the other colonies, the figures of mean population shown in the last column of Table I. have been used.

The figures for New Zealand relate to the 31st March, 1892. On the 30th June, 1892, the Public Debt of Victoria was £46,711,287 (including £1,000,000 Treasury Bonds). The estimated population at that date was about 1,162,000, and the revenue of the financial year ended with that date was £7,729,572. The debt was thus equal to £40 4s. per head, or to 6·04 years' revenue.

* Including the Northern Territory.

[1] The figures for New South Wales were derived from a statement showing the gross expenditure from the Loan Account as follows:—Gross expenditure of net proceeds of loans (exclusive of redemption loans) £49,160,040, less amount overdrawn (after allowing for balance of recent loan not brought to account) £835,764—apportioned under various heads according to loan expenditure during 1891, plus the net deficiency on floating loans £2,282,337, the net result being £50,606,613; from which is deducted £1,681,940 for loans paid off out of revenue, and £153,124 net contribution from revenue towards covering deficiencies—apportioned according to the expenditure under the various heads—the balance representing the debt outstanding at the end of the year—£48,771,549.

[2] Including £1,405,456, loans to local bodies, chiefly for Waterworks, but also for Roads and Bridges.

[3] Included with other public works.

[4] Including other buildings.

[5] The amount for Roads and Bridges is included with that for Harbors, &c.

[6] The figures set down as showing the objects for which the Public Debt of New Zealand was contracted represent the net expenditure out of the "Public Works Fund" since 1870—the date of the first Immigration and Public Works Loan—which is the only existing record of the loan expenditure; it is, however, stated that, besides loan moneys, receipts in aid from Stamp duties, &c., contributed somewhat towards the total sum so expended. The balance required to make up the total debt at the end of 1891 has been entered as "Unapportioned."

[7] In New Zealand, a portion of the expenditure on "Defences" is included under the head of "Harbors," &c., and a portion is under the head of "Unapportioned."

[8] In New South Wales, the amount under this head was expended on public works on behalf of Queensland when it formed part of New South Wales; in South Australia on general public works for the Northern Territory; in New Zealand on land purchases (presumably from the Maoris), £1,248,876, and rates on native lands, £60,052, &c. From the amount returned for Tasmania, debentures redeemed, amounting to £105,350, have been deducted, since the purposes were not specified for which the original loans thereby paid off were raised.

[9] Consisting of deficiencies in floating loans (the whole in New South Wales, and £1,753,470 in Queensland); and unexpended balances. In Victoria deficiencies in floating loans are distributed over the heads for which the loans were raised.

[10] As a set-off against the public debt, New Zealand possessed an accrued sinking fund amounting, on the 31st March, 1892, to £1,035,449; the net liability of that colony was, therefore, £37,677,619, or £59 8s. 6d. per head of population, equal to nine times the revenue. The sinking funds possessed by the other colonies are comparatively small, consisting of the following amounts:—Victoria, £156,100; Western Australia, £99,325; Tasmania, £145,004.

[11] In calculating these results, the populations on the 31st December, shown in the fifth column of Table I. have been used.

[12] In calculating these results, the figures of public revenue given in Table IV. have been used.

[13] Consisting of amounts spent out of the old provincial loans of New Zealand, prior to the abolition of provinces in 1876, loans not accounted for, and the unspent balances of loan moneys; also £1,021,472 for charges and expenses of raising loans. No particulars of the purposes to which the former were applied are available.

NOTE.—The figures for all the colonies, except Western Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand, relate to the year ended 30th June, 1891; those for the two former being for the calendar year 1891, and those for the latter for the year ended 31st March, 1892.

[1] The amounts included in these columns generally represent the actual expenditure on construction, irrespective of the cost of floating loans, and without regard to the deficiencies below or premiums received above the nominal amount of loans for railway purposes as contracted by the different colonie. The figures for South Australia, however, include all discounts and expenses incurred in floating loans. In regard to the relative cost of constructing the lines in the different colonies, it should be borne in mind that a much larger proportion of double lines exist in Victoria than in any other colony.

[2] Including compensation, paid as follows:—Victoria, £22,128; New South Wales, £14,807; &c.

[3] The calculations in this column are based on the average capital cost, as follows:—Victoria, £34,053,623; New South Wales, £31,161,870; Queensland, £14,514,151; South Australia, £10,850,655; Western Australia, £903,736; Tasmania, £2,996,700; New Zealand, £14,467,638.

[4] Including £40,000 on account of services rendered to the Post and Telegraph Department, £9,430 for services rendered to other Departments, and £19,982 credited for non-paying traffic.

[5] Exclusive of Palmerston Line, Northern Territory, 146 miles, on a 3ft. 6in. gauge, opened for traffic on the 1st October, 1889. The returns for the twelve months were as follow:—Cost (including interest during construction and expenses of floating loans), £1,145,530; working expenses, £13,910; gross receipts, £15,310; train mileage, 31,470; number of passengers, 4,515; goods and live stock, 2,426 tons. Of the receipts for South Australia (Proper), as much as £517,587 was derived from the Broken Hill Line.

[6] Including the Tasmanian Main Line, 122 miles, purchased by the Government in 1890, at a total cost (including purchase money, expenses of litigation, &c.) of £1,135,968.

[7] Exclusive of Postal services, valued at about £26,000.

[8] The number of passenger journeys have been carefully computed for all the colonies (except Western Australia) on the following uniform basis:—There has been allowed 720 journeys for each yearly, 360 for each half-yearly, 180 for each quarterly, 60 for each monthly, 2 for each return, and 1 for each single ticket issued to adults and youths; and one-half of those numbers respectively for tickets issued to boys and girls. No allowance has been made for free passes issued, nor have 557,550 free journeys made by school children in New Zealand been included; whilst the figures for South Australia are also exclusive of journeys on yearly and half-yearly contract tickets available for all lines. The numbers given differ in many cases from those returned by the various colonies, which are not compiled in a uniform manner. From the Victorian Railway figures 13,974,846, added for journeys on single tickets over more than one system, have been deducted. In comparing the traffic in Victoria and New South Wales the large metropolitan tramway and steam-boat traffic in these colonies must also be taken into account.

[9] Exclusive of live stock.

Private Railways.—In addition to Government lines, there were also private lines, as follow, in the colonies named:—New South Wales, 81 miles; South Australia, 18; Western Australia, 453; Tasmania, 48; New Zealand, 142 miles.

Tramways.—These are not included in the foregoing table. On the 30th June, 1892, there were 47½ miles of street tramways (chiefly cable) in the metropolis of Victoria, constructed by a municipal trust at a cost (to 31st December, 1891) of £1,671,966, but leased to a company, which works the lines, the receipts from which in 1891–2 amounted to £511,915, and the passengers carried numbered 43,825,439; in New South Wales, 48 miles of street tramways (chiefly steam) constructed by the Government at a cost of £1,099,659, the gross receipts for the year being £305,090, the working expenses £248,591, and the estimated number of passengers carried (allowing 2¾d. for each) 24,416,989; in Queensland, 23½ miles, including 8½ of street lines; and in Western Australia 8 miles of Government lines. There are other lines in the colonies named, but of less importance.

NOTE.—The numbers given for letters and newspapers represent those posted in the colony (counted once), added to those received from abroad. Owing to the difficulties of distinguishing telegraphic from postal revenue and expenditure, they are now shown in a combined form.

* Figures for 1890, those for 1891 not having been compiled.

[1] Subject to certain regulations and restrictions, newspapers posted in New South Wales and Queensland travel free to any of the Australasian Colonies, and in Western Australia they travel free to places within the colony itself. In the other colonies a small postage fee is charged on newspapers.

[2] Including commission on money orders. The revenue for New South Wales includes £29,877 for postage on letters, and £17,185 for telegrams, O.H.M.S; but the values of Government and other correspondence, not charged for in the case of most of the other colonies, were as follow:—Victoria, about £64,000 for letters, and £5,808 for telegrams; Queensland, £32,778 for telegrams; New Zealand, £63,580 for letters, and £24,840 for telegrams. In other cases the information was not available.

[3] Exclusive of interest on Savings' Banks Deposits.

[4] The revenue is made up of Postal revenue (roughly estimated), £307,000; Parcels Post, £8,610; private boxes, &c., £7,734; and commission on money orders, £15,276. The expenditure includes cost of printing books, forms, and stamps by the Government Printer; but is exclusive of expenditure on buildings and on construction and maintenance of telegraph lines, which, it is believed, is not taken into account in the case of all the other colonies.

[5] There are also 344 receiving offices.

[6] Information derived from the Report of the Postmaster-General for 1891. The amount is inclusive of £31,097 expenditure on account of the Post Office by other Government Departments; but is exclusive of interest on cost of construction of telegraphs, £30,715, and on cost of postal buildings owned by Government, £27,728, which items would swell the deficit to £115,159. The expenditure is made up of £424,377 on account of Post Office (proper); £21,443, Money Order Office; £241,406, Telegraph Department; also £31,097 by other Government Departments. The revenue from money orders, included in the postal revenue, was £19,198.

NOTE.—The extent open embraces, besides cables worked by companies, not only lines under the control of the Postal Department, but also those managed by the Railway authorities, which are often largely availed of by the public. According to the plan followed by the Victorian Postal authorities, the telegrams refer to those transmitted only, those received from places outside each colony being excluded. It is questionable, however, whether it would not be better to uniformly include those received from abroad in all the colonies.

* Where asterisks occur, the information has not been furnished or is incomplete.

[1] Including miles of Railway Telegraphs, as follow:—Victoria—line 3,017, wire 4,874; New South Wales—line 2,182 (the wires belong to Postal Department); Queensland, length not stated; South Australia—line 107, wire 2,012; Western Australia—length not stated; Tasmania—line 360, wire 549. Telephone line and wire are excluded, except in the case of New South Wales. Cables are included, as follow:—Tasmania, 365 miles, worked by a public company; New Zealand, 226 miles.——[2] Including 810 miles, used solely for railway purposes.——[3] Included with telegraph wire.——[4] Including international telegrams of other colonies, viz., 35,206 outward, and 32,794 inward telegrams.——[5] In the case of South Australia, the telegraph revenue includes telephone revenue. The revenue has fallen off as compared with the previous year in consequence of reduced rates between England and Australia.——[6] Inclusive of Cable.

* Where asterisks occur, the information has not been furnished or cannot be completed.

[1] These areas do not exactly agree with those officially furnished in some cases. See footnote (1) to Table I., ante.

[2] The purchase money for selected land varies in the different colonies from 10s. to 30s. per acre, payable by annual instalments (generally without interest) extending over a period of 10 or 20 years. For particulars of the terms and conditions under which such land is acquired, see Victorian Year-Book 1892, Vol. II., under the head of "Production."

[3] Including 33 acres, being balance of land exchanged for various purposes, for which no money consideration was received.

[4] Of this area 132,871 acres were granted to natives, or Europeans who purchased from them, under Native Land Acts.

[5] Including only that of which the purchase has been completed.

[6] Exclusive of the extent estimated to have been forfeited for non-fulfilment of conditions, &c., except in the case of Western Australia.

[7] Including land held under leases with right of purchase on certain conditions, viz., 1,415,862 acres in Queensland, and over 4,027,304 acres in South Australia.

[8] These figures relate partly to lands in respect to which Crown Grants have been issued either to the original Maori possessors, or to Europeans or Maoris who have purchased from them, under certain Native Land Acts.

[9] Of this extent, about 14,000,000 acres belong to the Maoris, or to Europeans who have purchased from them; and 1,019,404 acres were held under "Perpetual Lease."

NOTE.—The State system of education is compulsory and undenominational (or secular) in all the colonies, and Western Australia is now the only colony which grants assistance to denominational schools. Public instruction is free in Victoria, Queensland, and New Zealand; but fees are charged in the other colonies, although they are partially or entirely remitted in cases where the parents are unable to pay them. The prescribed school age differs in the various colonies—In Victoria it is from 6 to 13 years; in New South Wales and Western Australia, from 6 to 14; in Queensland, from 6 to 12; in South Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand, from 7 to 13. For further particulars relating to the educational systems of the various colonies, see Victorian Year-Book 1892, Vol. II.

[1] These figures have been estimated in the office of the Government Statist, Melbourne.
[2] Including 19 assisted schools.
[3] The figures under this head represent the cost of State (Primary) Education, including expenditure on Head Office, staff, and inspection, but exclusive only of expenditure on buildings (either for repairs or erection) and rent. In the case of New Zealand, however, rent is included, as the amount could not be separated.
[4] Portion of the amounts in this column are derived from Education Reserves, &c., viz., about £7,545 in South Australia, and £34,742 in New Zealand.
[5] For extra subjects.
[6] Exclusive of amounts received by assisted schools, which were not returned.
[7] In Government schools only. The average amount also paid by the State to assisted schools was £1 8s. 11d.
[8] In the figures for New Zealand, amounts received by Boards from local sources, and sums raised locally by School Committees are also included.

Were the whole so placed, it would bring the land under tillage up to 8,922,460 acres, or to 14·07 acres per head of the population. The green forage entered above consists of 118,484 acres of green oats, 422,354 acres of turnips, and 1,679 acres of green maize.

[1] These figures are made up of the sum of the total quantities exported from and used for manufactures in, less the quantities imported by, the respective colonies. The wool referred to is, of course, not homogeneous in quality, some being greasy and some washed and scoured. The Government Statistician of New South Wales has estimated that the equivalent weight in greasy wool of the whole clip for that colony was 351,912,000 lbs.
[2] Estimated.
[3] Including wool exported in 1890 but not returned until 1891, viz.:—2,656,252 lbs. valued (9d. per lb.) at £99,609.

NOTE.—The figures for Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland express the quantity and value of all the gold known to have been raised in those colonies since the period of its first discovery in Australia in 1851; those for South Australia are estimated chiefly from the returns of the Melbourne and Sydney Mints, and partly from the export returns; those for New Zealand express the total exports of gold from the earliest period; and those for Tasmania express the quantity known to have been raised since 1866, there being no record of the gold raised prior to that period. There being no reliable returns of the gold raised in Western Australia, the yield prior to 1889 has been estimated roughly at 100,000 oz., to which have been added the quantities which have since appeared in the export returns of the colony, which, however, are admittedly very defective.

* Figures amended since last publication. † Including Northern Territory.

[1] The purity, and consequently the value, of gold varies considerably in different localities. In Victoria the average value is set down as £4 per oz., in Western Australia as £3 16s., and in Queensland as £3 1cs. per oz. Standard gold (i.e., 22 carats fine) is worth £3 17s. 10½d., and pure gold £4 4s. 11½d. per oz.
[2] Quantity declared for export only.

There is a limit to the amount of an interest-bearing deposit, varying from £100 to £250 in the different colonies. When two rates of interest are quoted, the lower one is that allowed by the Post Office Banks.

The amount realized by the State for sales of land to the end of 1888 was only £26,446, which, however, represents the price of but a small proportion of the acreage alienated. The majority of the grants issued were for lands acquired by whites and others previously to annexation, and these received their titles at the nominal price of One shilling.

[2] In addition to the live stock referred to in these columns, about 5,000 angora goats were kept on the islands.

NOTES.—The Finances are supplied by a sum not exceeding £15,000 per annum, for which the Colony of Queensland has made itself primarily responsible, Victoria and New South Wales contributing equally with Queensland towards this amount. Local revenue is applied in reduction of the sums payable by the contributing colonies, and any credit balance in the appropriation account must be written off at the end of the year.

Crown lands may be alienated for agricultural purposes, at not less than 2s. 6d. per acre, conditional on the introduction of some new industry. Where no such condition as to improvements is imposed, the minimum prices are:—For agricultural land, 10s. per acre; pastoral land, 2s.; for trading or fishing purposes, £5; and for cocoanut planting, 5s. per acre. Areas not exceeding 50 acres may be sold under deferred payments, extending over 5 years, the minimum price in such cases being £1 per acre.

The following is additional information for the year 1890–91:—Population.—It is impossible to obtain anything more than a rude guess at the total of the indigenous population. The non-native population of the Possession in April, 1891, was about 272, of whom only 156 were whites, the remainder being chiefly Polynesians, Malays, &c. Sources of Local Revenue.—Customs duties, £2,526; licences, £21; gold-fields, £23; fees, fines, &c., £50; miscellaneous, £54. Heads of Expenditure.—Salaries and allowances, £8,267; vessels, £2,939; buildings, £979; agriculture, £355; and miscellaneous, £2,460. Chief Exports.—Bêche-de-mere, 6½ tons, value £5,030; pearl shell, value £80; copra, 198 tons, value £1,433.

* Gold entered at Cooktown, Queensland, as received from British New Guinea, no other record being available. The number of miners on the gold-fields have fallen off from 700 or 800 in 1888-9, to only about 80 in 1890–91. The fields are now fully occupied, and the miners are principally men that are acclimatized, and who possess such knowledge of the natives and of the country as often gives them great advantage over new comers, who are not likely to meet with success.
